Worksheet for Future Tense

What are Tenses?

Tenses tell about the timing or continuation of action (verb). Tenses have three forms-

- Present Tense describes the events that are happening in the present.
- Past Tense describes events that have happened earlier.
- Future Tense talks about those events that will happen in the future.

Future Tense is used for events or activities that will occur in future. It has four parts- Simple Future, Future Continuous, Future Perfect, and Future Perfect Continuous.

Simple Future Tense

It describes an action that will take place in future. It expresses facts. "Will/ Shall" is used to denote the action will take place in the future. The verb does not change its form.

Examples-

- The train will arrive at 12 p.m.
- She shall send me an important email today.

Future Continuous/Progressive Tense

It talks about an action that will most likely occur in the future and last for a specific period of time. It's made up of the words 'will/shall + be + the present participle (the root verb + -ing).'

Examples-

- I will be sleeping till 7 a.m. tomorrow
- They shall be playing well by the end of the month.

Future Perfect Tense

It indicates an action that will take place in the future at a set time The tense is written as “will have/shall have + past participle of the verb.”
